

Carol Rhodes

Treasurer and Program Coordinator
Artists for Climate Awareness
Bloomington, Indiana
<https://artistsforclimateawareness.org>

My paintings reflect a balance between representation and an ethereal quality that invites viewers to immerse themselves in a world that is both familiar and transcendent. Each brushstroke becomes a celebration of the inherent strength and resilience found in nature. In my paintings, I strive to convey not only the beauty of the natural world but also a sense of urgency and responsibility. I hope that my artwork serves as a reminder of the profound connection we share with our environment and the need to protect and cherish it for future generations.

Wings of Despair Above Plastic Waves
13 x 16 in., Watercolor, 2024

"Wings of Despair Above Plastic Waves" depicts a sea bird aloft over a gray sea, flying out ahead of an impending storm.