

1014-P1-944 John C Maceli (Maceli@Ithaca.edu), Williams Hall, Mathematics
Department, Ithaca College, Ithaca, NY 14850. Numeracy: A Course for Honor Students.. Preliminary report.

During the last ten years I have been teaching a quantitative literacy course titled Math and Society. This course has been given as a general education elective at Ithaca College. Recently I have taught a version of this course as an intermediate seminar in the Humanities and Sciences Honors program. I will relate my experiences in teaching this course. I will also share some topics that are "new" to the general mathematics curriculum but are ideal topics for QL courses at all levels. (Received September 26, 2005)